Popular Songbooks

Typically a collection of notated songs that have been collected around a common theme or idea.

- Songs that mirror an album release
- Songs that are the ‘greatest hits’ of a particular artist
- Songs that are related to a particular subject

All songbook publications are aggregates.

Representative Expression Elements

Elements at the work level that are associated with canonical realizations of a work. The value of these elements are derived from the associated expression.

For an aggregating work, the values of the representative expression elements are derived from the aggregated expressions: the content that is embodied by an aggregate.

Useful as a way to record attributes associate with the content without having to identify the individual works and expressions.

Contributor to Aggregate Elements

Elements that relate a manifestation to the creators of the aggregated content.

Includes both creators of works and creators of expressions.

Useful as a way to record agents associated with the content without having to identify the individual works and expressions.

Aggregates Element

Element that relates the aggregating expression to the expressions that are aggregated in an aggregate (i.e. a manifestation).

Useful when one believes that the plan for an aggregate may be realized in another aggregate.

Aggregators

Elements that relate an aggregating work to the agents responsible for selecting and ordering the expressions that are aggregated in an aggregate.

Aggregators are not necessarily the same agents that were responsible for the creation of the aggregated content.

Agents who are aggregators are often not identified as being aggregators. You can approach this in whatever way feels comfortable to you.
