Books in the Animalibus series share a fascination with the status and the role of animals in human life. Crossing the humanities and the social sciences to include work in history, anthropology, social and cultural geography, environmental studies, and literary and art criticism, these books ask what thinking about nonhuman animals can teach us about human cultures, about what it means to be human, and about how that meaning might shift across times and places.

Will Use an AP Spreadsheet

• Assumptions
  ▪ An appropriate application profile exists for a “simple” monograph with a single personal author
    o Data entry order should largely mirror ISBD
    o Choices in recording methods are up to cataloger’s judgment
    o The “system” will supply actionable links between the related Manifestation, Expression, and Work metadata description sets

• Realities
  ▪ No references made to MARC
  ▪ Only recording data related to Manifestation, Expression, and Work ▪ Things may change between now and when the beta RDA Toolkit becomes official

note on manifestation

• Definition and Scope
  ▪ “A broad unstructured description of one or more attributes of a manifestation.”

• Unstructured description
  ▪ “Record any information relevant to an entity.”
    o This is a good way to provide keyword indexing for a contents note, as long as you don’t want the contents to be actionable o My AP says to follow ISBD conventions for contents notes; I opted for basic transcription (again)

• RESULT: Educate Them Artistically -- Bearing Witness -- Imaginative Leaps -- In the Public Eye -- Advocacy at Home – Conclusion: What Might Be.

    o this information is considered important for identification or selection (e.g., for an audiovisual expression or for a manifestation designed for use by persons with disabilities), and o sufficient information is not recorded in another expression element or in an element for a related manifestation.”

• RESULT: "Animal rights activists today regularly use visual imagery in their efforts to shape the public’s understanding of what it means to be ‘kind,’ ‘cruel,’ and ‘inhumane’ toward animals. Art for Animals explores the early history of this form of advocacy through the images and the people who harnessed their power.”
